Căutarea simplă presupune interogarea după criteriile: conținut, numele autorului, titlul seriei, titlul revistei, titlul cărții, editor, cuvinte cheie, ISBN, ISSN. Ex.: Elvira Nica, criteriu cuvintecheie. Rezultă o listă cuprinzând 20 titluri. În cadrul listei de rezultate se pot face filtrări din meniul vertical după alte cuvinte cheie, subiecte, autori, limba de redactare a documentului.

Icon-ul din dreptul fiecărei descrieri bibliografice ne edifică asupra tipului de înregistrare la care avem acces: revistă, articol, carte, capitol, document în acces deschis.

În urma filtrării după cuvântul cheie Human Resources in Economy, obținem o listă de 9 articole. Click pe înregistrare ne conduce la descrierea bibliografică extinsă și la punctul de acces pentru descărcarea textului integral al articolului.

Artificial Intelligence-supported Workplace Decisions: Big Data Algorithmic Analytics, Sensory and Tracking Technologies, and Metabolism Monitors

- Author(s): Elvira Nica, Renáta Miklenčičová, Eva Kicová
- Subject(s): Management and complex organizations

Published by: Addleton Academic Publishers

Keywords: big data algorithmic analytics; sensory and tracking technologies;

Summary/Abstract: This article presents an empirical study carried out to evaluate and analyze artificial intelligence-supported workplace decisions. Building our argument by drawing on data collected from Bright & Company, Corporate Research Forum, Deloitte, IBM Institute for Business Value, Management Events, McKinsey, and Top Employers Institute, we performed analyses and made estimates regarding to what extent organizations have been able to use human resource analytics to successfully predict business outcomes and take action to drive different outcomes (%). Data gathered from 4,700 respondents are tested against the research model by using structural equation modeling.
